What Am I Doing for Lent This Year? SECOND EDITION

Paul Turner

Very truly, I tell you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains just a single grain; but if it dies, it bears much fruit (John 12:24).

You die to yourself when you keep Lent. But you rise with Christ at Easter. This booklet will help you work out a personal plan for keeping Lent with Easter in mind.

We are providing free copies of "What Am I Doing for Lent This Year" by Father Paul Turner to all our parishioners!

Pick up your copy the weekend of February 7 and February 14, or stop by the parish office. Email msanem@kcgolddome.org if you'd like us to mail a copy to your home.

Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

1 Corinthians 10:31—1:1

Us against Them

Sooner or later you find yourself choosing sides. Whether it's a controversy at school, in local politics, at church, or at work, some people will take one position and others will be opposed.

There are probably many churches within a short driving distance from where you live. But they each expect you to choose sides—to belong to one, not to many. It's not like a mall, where the more shops you visit the happier the merchants are.

Choosing sides seems inevitable, but our ultimate goal is one we share in common: salvation. All that we do for ourselves and for others should promote cooperation toward our common goal of oneness with Christ.

The apostle Paul faced this challenge in a unique way. The believing world was already divided between Jews and Gentiles. Now the disciples of Jesus were offering a third way. In the midst of these divisions, Paul kept a higher vision. He said, "I try to please everyone in every way, not seeking my own benefit but that of the many, that they may be saved."

Too often people choose sides for their own benefit, rather than for the benefit of the many. It forces people to choose sides. It leads nowhere. Paul advises us not to think of ourselves alone: "Whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do everything for the glory of God."
