Dear Members and Friends of the Cathedral,

Today is our annual festival, raffle and auction! Snag one of the last tickets here:
<https://morningglory.ticketspice.com/cathedral-dinner-and-auction-2024>.

The silent auction is open with art items, jewelry, baseball tickets and more. Place your bids! Lots of items are going at a very low price right now.

This weekend Fr. Riley is not available, so I'll celebrate all the Masses with you. Our deacons will preach. It's Pentecost. A lot of Catholics like to wear red to church on this day—even though the Chiefs are not playing.

The second collection this weekend is Tomorrow's Priests Vocation Fund. It will help pay for the formation of the seminarians of our diocese. One of them will be here to speak to you and ask for your support.

At 9 a.m. we celebrate baptism with then Joerling family. The finance council is providing coffee and donuts for you after the morning Masses on Sunday. (Soon you'll be able to enjoy these refreshments in our new gathering area with its spectacular view to the south!)

Those interested in joining the church meet on Sunday mornings. Our new members gather for the last time this coming Monday. You may help serve lunch at the Towers on Monday. Parents preparing a child for baptism meet Monday.

Thanks to all who have pledged to our building campaign. If you can pay off your pledge in the next few weeks, you'll diminish the size of the loan we are taking out at 7% interest. If you'd like to make a new multi-year pledge, please contact me so I can visit with you.

In Christ,

Fr. Paul Turner
Pastor
